A REAR-END SMASH-UP

In Which Fast Passenger Train Smashes Into Freight That Was Stopped By Broken Rails.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 17.—Five men were killed and eleven injured at 5:40 o'clock this morning, when the Pennsylvania limited train No. 5, west bound, crashed into a wrecked train at Luray, Ind.; twenty-five miles west of here. No one aboard the limited train was injured except a baggage man.

Wreck Due To Fog

The wreck was due to the fog which was so dense that a flagman sent back from the wrecked train was not seen by the engineer of the limited. The wrecked train had been stopped by a track man who reported a broken rail ahead, and while the investigation was in progress the limited crashed into the caboose of the train ahead.

Wreckage Takes Fire

The wreckage caught fire and two of the dead men were buried beyond recognition. Two or three of the injured may die.

The Dead Are

Charles E. Stump; Frank Wiegman; and F. Dehlerman. The dead are railway employees and all lived in Fort Wayne. Except for a shanking up none of the passengers on the limited were hurt.

HIGHWAYMEN SOUGHT BY NEW YORK POLICE

Gangs of Robbers Who Use Autos to Escape Are Wanted for Many Bold Robberies.

New York, Feb. 17.—A police dragnet has been thrown over the city and has so far failed to entrap the gangs of automobile highwaymen who have within a week robbed thousands of dollars. The series of robberies, holdups and murders within the last month has caused a general consternation in the police department, and Police Commissioner Walcott has summoned back to detective work all the old town slouts who were some time ago transferred to patrol duty.

The police are absolutely without clue in the hold-up last night. Geo. Horst, a diamond dealer, was robbed of $10,000 on West 35th street while scores of people were passing along the thoroughfare. The robber escaped in an automobile. Only enough of the detectives were unable to find a single witness to the robbery.

WATER SYSTEM BONDS ISSUED IN LA CROSSE

Twelve Years of Improvements Will Be Brought to Abrupt Close by Issuance of Bonds.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 17.—Public improvements in La Crosse which have been carried on, on an extensive scale for the past twelve years and which are to culminate in the installation of a new water plant costing $250,000 will be brought to an abrupt close by the issue of bonds for the water system. The controller has notified the council that the water bonds will bring the bonded indebtedness of the city to within one hundred thousand dollars of the constitutional limit with the probability that the balance will be required for extras before the water plant is completed. As the assessed valuation of the bank of one hundred per cent of the real value will bring the increased bonded limit to a higher value is probable. The only resource will be to make improvements by direct taxation or abandon them until some of the bonds have been matured and paid. The announcement that the bonded limit has been reached was a surprise to the council.

Clark adherents have pushed their county convention campaign for specific instructions in favor of the Missourian. Wilson workers have contented themselves by campaigning for uncommitted delegates.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL MEETING OF TEACHERS TODAY

INTERESTING SESSIONS—PRIN. REESE OF CLINTON NAMED PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION.

HELD IN HIGH SCHOOL

Pupils of Jefferson School Take Part in Program—Officers Elected.

Two hundred teachers attended the meeting of the Rock County Teachers' Association held in the high school building here today. There was an active interest in the program which had been arranged with care on the part of the executive committee.

The general session this morning was called shortly after nine o'clock and the first number on the program was a selection by the chorus of the students of the Rock County Training school.

Prof. R. H. Whitcomb of the University of Wisconsin gave an interesting address on the topic, "Place Names, and The Stories They Tell." He traced the routes of some of the early discoverers and explorers of the North American continent, showing how the names of the various towns, rivers, and other points had derived their origin from these sources.

He declared that much of the early history of the towns of the south could be read by a study of the names of the cities, and rivers which drive their origin in many cases from the early Spanish explorers. The same was true, he said, of the towns through the Mississippi valley which were settled by the early French traders. The influence of the early Jesuit priests and missionaries can also be traced in a multitude of places throughout the country, and the history of the Dutch settlers at New York can be read in the names along the Hudson river.

Mrs. O. C. Colony of Evansville was unable to attend the sessions this morning and her paper was read this afternoon. Her subject was "United We Stand," and was a plea for united effort on the part of all interested in the cause of education to make the system in the state the best possible. Superintendent McMurray of the De Kalb public schools gave an address at the session this morning in the absence of William Kittle, secretary of the state board of regents who was to have spoken. Mr. McMurray has had a wide experience as a school man and gave a very interesting talk. He advocated the elimination of unnecessary detail in the teaching of arithmetic, and other of the elementary branches, and urged that the teachers in the grade and common schools pay more attention to the foundation principles of these subjects.

Mrs. Abby Mayhew, director of physical culture at the University of Wisconsin gave a very good talk on "The Need of Physical Culture in Our Public Schools," giving the reasons why more attention should be paid to this important subject.

The Risk Lyeum Glee Club sang several selections at the close of the program.

At the meeting this afternoon the teachers attended the various sectional meetings which were held between the hours of 1:20 and 3:30 o'clock.

A feature of the afternoon program was offered in the Primary Division which was in charge of Miss Elin Jacobson of the training school faculty. Under the direction of Mrs. Georgia C. Hyde and Miss Mary Curtis, teacher of the second grade at the Jefferson school, the pupils of that grade gave a number of dramatized songs. The program was as follows:

"Smiling Song"..... Gaynor
"Jackie Frost"..... Smith
"Gossips"..... Hyde
"Little Miss Muffin"..... Hyde
"Twenty Frogs"..... Curtis
"Crooked Men"..... Hyde
"Spring Song"..... Hyde
"Dandelions"..... Eleanor Smith
"Sea Song"..... Gaynor
"Boat Follies"..... Hyde
"The Firemen's Song"..... Nevin
"Hail to the Flag"..... Gaynor

The children performed their parts in an excellent manner reflecting credit on Miss Curtis and Mrs. Hyde, who had trained them for the program. Mrs. Hyde was the author of a large number of the songs.

The high school section was led by Principal P. O. Holt of Edgerton, and papers were read by Supt. Briggs of Rockford, Miss Marjorie Gregory of Edgerton, and Supt. Hiltnerberg of Whitewater.

The grammar and intermediate section was in charge of Miss Anna Duggan of Beloit, and the Kindergarten department was in charge of Miss Carolyn Hatch of Evansville.

Supt. McMurray of De Kalb addressed the teachers again at the general session this afternoon. Officers were elected at the opening of the general session at three o'clock as follows: President, Prin. P. C. Reese of Clinton; vice president, Miss Anna Duggan, Beloit; secretary, Miss Edna Hemmingsway, Janesville; and treasurer, Miss Ella Jacobson, Janesville.

Four Is Their Limit.

A close observer has definitely established the fact that muzzles and rooks cannot count further than four. A rook never returns to its nest until it is quite satisfied that there is no danger near. When four hunters or less departed in succession from a nest by log cabin the rook would return to its nest after the last had gone out of sight. But whenever there were more than the bird count and returned to its nest even while some were still in the hut. Similarly, apes do not count further than four, and the Doers of the Transvaal, when they want to hunt those animals, hide in numbers exceeding four. Four depart in succession in such a manner as to be noticed by the apes, who then come forth and are easily captured.

SECOND ROCKFORD INDUSTRIAL SHOW

Second Annual "Made in Rockford" Show Begins on Monday.—Free To All.

The second annual "Made in Rockford" show will be held in the Coliseum at Rockford between Feb. 19th and 21st.

This is the greatest industrial exhibition ever held in the state of Illinois outside of Chicago. Over one hundred different lines of goods manufactured in Rockford will be exhibited. Many exhibitors will show the intricate workings of their large manufacturing plants. Machinery will be in motion turning out products as is done every day in the factories. The process of making watches will be shown in every detail; large punching machines turning out the novelty boxes; silver plating process will be thoroughly demonstrated; high grade printing process in operation; knitting machinery from the big knitting mill; hat making; exhibits from the manual training schools—in fact, many diversified lines will be shown in a most interesting fashion.

With these interesting and most educational lot of attractions, a special program will be offered each afternoon and evening, together with select music by orchestra and bands, and a most interesting series of stereoscopic pictures of the many factories of Rockford.

As Rockford has over four hundred and fifty manufacturing industries, including thirty furniture factories that make it as second largest furniture city in the United States, as well as the largest harness leather works in the world, the largest gas stove works, and one of the largest independent implement concerns, aside from its iron working plants and a most varied assortment of novelty lines, it stands well in exhibiting one of the most complete shows of this character in the United States.

Since the first show, a year ago, in which have been sent from coast to coast making the methods adopted in planning such a big undertaking, and today, many of the industrial concerns throughout the country are putting forth similar efforts to promote the industrial interests.

Thousands of people thronged the doors of the show last year and it was found necessary to use the largest convention building in the city. Citrus within a radius of three hundred miles have been invited to attend and acceptance are being received daily.

Special days have set apart during the week. Doors are open between 10:00 a. m. and 12:00 m., and the admission is free at all times. Tuesday will be Public School Day, Wednesday, Fraternal and Lodge Day, Friday, Farmers and Grange Day, Friday, Ladies Day—although everyone is welcome every day.

The admission is free to everyone; you are at liberty to come and go as you like. Positively nothing will be sold at the exhibit but many interesting souvenirs will be generously exhibited.

ELECTRIC SERVICE HAS BEEN IMPROVED

Investigation and Order Following Complaint to State Commission Results in Better Quality of Lighting.

In the report of the engineers of the state railroad commission which was received by City Attorney Maxfield yesterday it was stated that the Janesville Electric Company had complied with the order of the commission to improve their service up to the standard required by the state engineers.

Several months ago Mr. Maxfield entered an oral complaint with the commission to the effect that the lighting service furnished by the company in this city was not up to the standard, and subsequent investigation on the part of the engineers of the commission revealed the truth of the complaint.

The company was ordered by the commission to improve the quality of their lighting and tests made recently show that the lighting service has been improved to the required standard. The report of the last tests is as follows:

"Some time ago we were notified by the Janesville Electric Company that they had made a number of changes which they believed brought their service up to the standards established by the commission. An inspection lasting six days and including voltage records taken at fourteen localities showed marked improvement in the voltage regulation all but one record being well within the requirements established. The one record which was outside the allowable limits was taken at the city library on Saturday and Sunday evening, at one of which times the voltage was about four volts high for perhaps ten minutes at just about six o'clock, and after 11:00 p. m. the voltage remained at approximately 113 volts. During the intervening period the regulation was satisfactory at this locality as well as

MISERY FROM INDIGESTION OR A SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACH

A little Diapiesal makes your out-of-order stomach feel fine in five minutes.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is more a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapiesal.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak stomachs should take a little Diapiesal occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapiesal.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent box of Diapiesal now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will be food, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

ALMOST DEAD WITH CATARRH

"PERUNA HAS SAVED MY LIFE."

Catarrh for Five Years.

Mr. S. S. Johnson, Greenville, Ill., writes: "I was for five years troubled with catarrh. Two years ago I had one foot in the grave. I had tried seven doctors and also went to a catarrh specialist in St. Louis, and took several kinds of medicine a day. I could not walk more than a hundred yards without resting. "My friends told me to take Peruna, and I did so. I now feel that Peruna has saved my life. It is the best medicine on earth, and I would not be without it."

A Heavy Cold.
Samuel McKinley, 1215 Grand Ave., Kansas City, Mo., member of the Faculty of the United States Jewelry Association, writes: "I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me."

"Travelling from town to town throughout the country, and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as a jeweler, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December, when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part, settled on my lungs.

CARDINALS EASY FOR BELOIT AGGREGATION

Team of College Men From Line City Have Little Trouble in Defeating Local Players, 21 to 12.

At no time during the game between the Cardinal basketball team and the aggregation of players from Beloit college who played at the rink last night, did the home team show winning form, and their defeat was an easy matter for their opponents who carried off the honors by a 21 to 12 score.

At the start the Beloit men were quick in securing several baskets and scored five points before the Cardinals were credited with their first field goal. In the entire first half the Cardinals secured but two field goals while the Beloit team made five. The score at the end of the first half was 11 to 5.

In the second half the Cardinals failed to improve on their work in the previous part of the game. The playing on both sides was rugged and lacked team work. The Beloit players made the more creditable showing by their superior guarding and their ability to score, as they were credited with ten field goals during the contest.

The game was disappointing to the local fans who had little opportunity to applaud. The Beloit team was not the college first team, as had been supposed by many in the crowd, but was composed of men who had some experience in the college class and practice contests. Their superiority over the Cardinals, however, was evident.

The teams lined up as follows:

Janesville.	Position.	Beloit.
Cunningham	cf.	Stevens
Green, Langdon	lf.	Davidson
		Darranogue
Hemming	c.	Aldrich
Langdon, Green	rg.	Fueck

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM
WINS FROM BELOIT

Basketball Game Between Rival Schools Last Night Resulted in Decisive Victory for Janesville.

It was evident from the beginning of the game between the Beloit and Janesville high school teams at the local gymnasium last night, that the Janesville team was far superior to their rivals and they administered another decisive defeat to the Beloit players by the score of 22 to 7.

Edler and Cunningham did some creditable work for the local team and secured a total of seven field goals between them. The other men on the Janesville team played hard and fast and proved too much for their opponents. The local team was heavier and faster than Beloit and it was evident that they were more experienced in the game.

The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 4, and in the second part of the game Beloit was able to add but three points to the score. Janesville also was weaker in the second-half as far as scoring was concerned, but continued their good work at the guarding game. At times the game was much rougher than is usual in high school contests, but Coach Dana M. Evans, who refereed, was fair and impartial in all his decisions. Summaries are as follows:

Janesville.	Position.	Beloit.
Cunningham	cf.	Cornell
Y. Hemming	lf.	Ralston, Carey
Wilkinson	c.	Wilford
Palmer	rg.	Charrity
Edler	lk.	Van Camp
Field goals:		Edler, 4;
		Cunningham, 3;
		Hemming, 2;
		Wilkinson, 2;
		Palmer, 1;
		Wilford, 1;
		Van Camp, 1;
		Carey, 1.
Free throws:		Ralston, 1.

MONROE DEFEATED Y.
TEAM BY BIG SCORE

Local Lads Fall Before Monroe Five by 53 to 19 After Holding Down in First Half.

All luck and lack of wind caused the defeat of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. team at Monroe last night to the tune of 53 to 19, after they had held the home team to 17 and 15 the first half. Both sides played hard and fast the first half and it was about a draw between the two bunches but during the second period the local boys were forced to slow down and their opponents who were in better condition ran away from them with a big score. Kneel, Wilson, McDonald, Brown and D. Cunningham composed the team which played again tonight at Albany.

$3,000 THROWN AWAY

MAN TRAVELS THOUSANDS OF
MILES IN QUEST OF HEALTH

UNITED DOCTORS CURE HIM.

There is no sensation so terrible as to know that one is slowly dying from an apparently incurable disease, that each day brings you nearer the point of the grave and that no escape can be found. Thousands and thousands are daily feeling this experience and in hopeless misery are awaiting the end and mentally resolving to do something to escape from this terrible condition.

James H. Moore, of 320 Liberty street, Racine, Wis., who was cured of a disease that was gradually sapping his life by the United Doctors, who have their Janesville Institute in the Hayes Bldg., corner of Milwaukee and Main Sts., relates an experience that is a revelation of one man's fight for life.

Mr. Moore's statement is as follows: "There was three of what should have been the best years of my life together with nearly a lifetime's savings spent in futile efforts at regaining my lost health which, like the Will of the Wisp, was ever beckoning and yet ever eluding me. My trouble first started while I was in Michigan, with a severe attack of pneumonia which threatened my life. This finally ended with abscesses of the lungs and a train of other complications and troubles which completely shattered my health and made me miserable. After a year's treatment with the best doctors there, I was told by them that they could do nothing more for me and I was advised by them to go to a milder climate. They advised Texas, and there I went. I stayed in Texas a year and a half, doctoring all the time and taking the best care of myself, but all to no purpose. My condition didn't improve. Finally, discouraged and utterly hopeless, I returned north again. Here I doctoring once more but my condition had grown so bad that I declined even more than before and dared not hope for recovery. It was while in this condition that I was advised by many friends to go to the United Doctors. It is hard for me to express the feeling of joy that entered my heart when after a careful examination I was told by them I could get well again. It seemed too good to be true. But now after just five weeks of the United Doctors' treatment and the extreme care they have taken with me and their great skill I know it is true for I already feel like a different person. My aches and pains are gone, my strength is returning and I am able to do my work. I will never be able to repay them for what they are doing for me and I make this statement publicly so other sick people will know where to go for a cure."

The United Doctors have instituted in many states. The Janesville Institute is in the Hayes Bldg.

A Rain-Trap.

In a time of distressing drought, says a writer in the Yorkshire Daily Post, a harassed amateur agriculturist stepped into a shop to buy a barometer. The shopman was giving a few stereotyped instructions about indications and pressures, when the purchaser impatiently interrupted him. "Yes, yes," said he, "that's all right, but what I want to know is, how do you set the thing when you want it to rain?"

An ingenious employment of the phonograph, by the way, was suggested by an inventor some time ago. This was for curing children of the habit of crying upon the slightest provocation. Disease Gives Way Readily To Chiropractic.

We use the term "disease," "Disease" implies the unequalness of life current, impulses from the brain, through a given amount of matter, the human body. The cause of this unequalness of current through the human body is caused by vertebral "subluxations." The word "subluxation" is but a term to show that one spinal bone instead of being on top of the other as it should be, is a bit crooked, twisted to one side. Consequently the nerve that before nicely filled the open window is now compressed, closed, crowded and squeezed into proportionate space to the degree of subluxation. Could you expect the same amount of current to go through those nerves under pressure, as they would with the bones in their proper places? No, you would not.

The Chiropractor, by adjusting the subluxation, brings back to normal, the out of place bone and disease is restored to ease by restoring the natural flow of currents from the brain to all portions. For instance, you have appendicitis. He knows specifically which, when, how much and where to adjust the spinal bones to restore the conditions of "health."

If you suffer from disease in any form, call at our office and let us tell you which of your vertebrae is out of line and what adjustment is necessary to remove the cause of your disease.

These two testimonials selected from among a great many are conclusive evidence right among you that Chiropractic is all we claim for it:

LAUREAN GUESTS OF PHILOTAXIAN GIRLS

Laurean and Lady Faculty are Entertained by Philotaxian Last Evening at Dinner.

At the five o'clock hour yesterday afternoon the Philotaxian Society of the High School, entertained the Laurean girls and the lady members of the faculty at a dinner. Games and the telling of fortunes occupied the first part of the evening, after which the partners for dinner were chosen. Each one of the guests was presented with a baby picture of one of the Philotaxians and accompanied her to the table when she had found out who it was.

After the guests had arrived they were given bags of tiny hearts with which they must pay the penalty for saying "yes" or "no." This was lots of fun and every girl was trying to be the cleverest way to outwit another. Miss Ruth Southman won the prize of a bunch of pink, satin rose buds for securing the most candy hearts.

Shooting at a target to decide their fates by the color which the arrow pierced caused much merriment. The new addition to the sewing room served as a dining room and was transformed into a bower of pink hearts and evergreen. Covers were laid for eighty and the small tables were a pretty sight with the pink and white candle shades pink favors and the place cards with hand painted hearts and daisies. Even the refreshments carried out the heart idea.

The following was the menu:

Riced Potatoes	Sandwiches
Olives	Radishes
Tomato Salad	Wafers
Ice Cream	Cakes

During the dinner Mr. Buell very kindly furnished music with his graphophone. The ten Freshman Philotaxian girls waited upon the guests and all wore white dresses with little pink heart shaped aprons.

After Elsie Davis the president had given a little toast to the guests, all attended the basketball game, where seats had been reserved. The victory furnished a fitting ending to a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Marion McMurray, who is visiting Miss Evelyn Welsh was the only out of town guest.

The work was in the hands of the social committee of which Verna Spencer was chairman. This committee was subdivided into three committees, viz: Entertainment, with Verna Spencer as chairman; refreshment, with Esther Brooge as chairman, and decorating with Eva Badger as chairman.

H. L. MAXFIELD SAYS TAXES ARE LOWER THAN FORMERLY—$5.00 PER THOUSAND.

HE FILED THE COMPLAINT

Says That Former Assessments Were Not Made in Accordance With the Law.

A great many voters and taxpayers of the city have been interested in what City Attorney Maxfield, who filed the complaint for the reassessment of Janesville, thinks of the result. In speaking on the subject yesterday Mr. Maxfield said in part:

"The effect of the recent reassessment of the city of Janesville seems to be a thing upon which many are not perfectly clear. It must be remembered that this reassessment was made upon the decision of the state tax commission, a commission of experts maintained by the state who are appointed by the governor, whose duties it is to equalize the taxes of the people of the state both as to their state, county and local taxes. After this commission had examined about thirty cities in this state and carefully looked over the assessment rolls and returned by the local assessors and all of the proceedings and evidence taken before the board of review, the commission of the state's experts decided that the assessment of the city of Janesville was not made in accordance with the law and that it was not just, equitable or uniform. Such being the case, it was decided to adjust and remedy this evil by reassessment, so that no one taxpayer would be obliged to pay any portion of the taxes of another in the future as he has in the past.

Assessment Roll of City of Janesville Increased over $5,000,000.

"Although the assessment roll of the city of Janesville has been increased under the reassessment made by this commission from $10,842,715 to $15,945,825, this does not mean that the taxes will be increased as that depends solely upon the amount of money appropriated by your governing board for governmental expenses. For the fiscal year this sum is $263,773, being the amount of your state, county and city taxes. This amount made the average rate for the city on the old valuation $18.79 per $1,000, which has been reduced by reason of the reassessment to $12.76 per $1,000, and the difference in your taxes will be credited to each taxpayer by the city clerk or proper city official when he makes up the next year's assessment roll, on your next year's taxes, without any application on your part.

Tax Rate Reduced $6.00 Per Thousand.

"The tax rate in this city has been reduced $6.00 per thousand as the result of this reassessment, which raised the old valuation about fifty per cent or $5,125,110. Now in order that your taxes be one cent higher, your new assessment must be about 50 per cent higher than your old or former one. In other words, if your assessed valuation on your property was $2,000 your new assessed valuation must be increased to about $3,000, in order that you pay the same amount of taxes that you did before the reassessment, and on all amounts above or below these figures your taxes will be decreased or increased at the rate of $12.76 per thousand.

Got the Wrong Ferry Boat.

John Wygers boarded at Antwerp on Dec. 2 what he supposed was a ferryboat that would land him at his home town on the left bank of the Scheldt, says the New York Sun. He had been indulging in schnapps and fell asleep. John slept only one day, which shows that the strength of schnapps has deteriorated since Rip Van Winkle's time. He woke up on the other day from Antwerp, and asked somebody when the ferryboat would get across. Then they told him that he would land in New York in about nine days. He said he wondered what his wife and nine children in Antwerp would say. He was put to work and was glad to get it. He will go back to the Scheldt by the Lapland, not having the slightest desire to camp on either bank of the Hudson.

"Dark Stars."

Scattered through space are innumerable stars that give forth very little light or heat. Either they were never, at any period of their history, bright and glowing like the myriad stars that make the midnight sky so beautiful, or in the course of countless ages the heat they once possessed has radiated away from them into the depth of space, and now they are, as their name describes them, "dark stars."

SHOW HOW RATE OF TAX IS DETERMINED

THIRD PAPER ON INCOME TAX OUTLINES IN DETAIL METHOD OF LEVY USED.

SECRECY OF RETURNS

Assessors or Other Officers Must Not Divulge Any Information Obtained in Discharge of Duties.

Owing to the fact that there seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the rate of the tax it is deemed advisable to show exactly how the amounts are arrived at for each one thousand dollars of income or part thereof, and it is suggested that interested parties who have not a copy of the law make a clipping of the following:

Section 1087m-6-1. The tax to be assessed, levied and collected upon the incomes of all persons, except as otherwise provided by law, after making such deductions and exemptions as are hereinafter allowed, shall be computed at the following rates, to-wit:

- (a) On the first one thousand dollars of taxable income or any part thereof, at the rate of one per cent;
- (b) On the second one thousand dollars or any part thereof, one and one-fourth per cent;
- (c) On the third one thousand dollars or any part thereof, one and one-half per cent;
- (d) On the fourth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, one and three-fourths per cent;
- (e) On the fifth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, two per cent;
- (f) On the sixth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, two and one-half per cent;
- (g) On the seventh one thousand dollars or any part thereof, three per cent;
- (h) On the eighth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, three and one-half per cent;
- (i) On the ninth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, four per cent;
- (j) On the tenth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, four and one-half per cent;
- (k) On the eleventh one thousand dollars or any part thereof, five per cent;
- (l) On the twelfth one thousand dollars or any part thereof, five and one-half per cent;
- (m) On any sum of taxable income in excess of twelve thousand dollars, six per cent.

It will be observed by the above that the tax on the:

1st thousand is	$10.00
2nd thousand is	12.50
3rd thousand is	15.00
4th thousand is	17.50
5th thousand is	20.00

13th thousand is 40.00
14th thousand is 42.50

and all sums in excess of the 15th thousand bears 6 per cent tax.

SEN. KENYON

AFTER THE MONEY TRUST.

Washington, D. C.—Senators Kenyon and Lea, the former a progressive Republican and the latter a progressive Democrat, have thrown the gauntlet squarely in the face of the money trust and have introduced a resolution which calls for a joint investigation by both branches of Congress into the conduct of the handful of financiers who are alleged to control the money market.

Senator Kenyon is a trust buster of national repute and when he takes up the cudgel, particularly when backed by such a well known character as Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee, the investigation becomes of unusual importance.

Of Special Value to Police.

The unique policeman's spectacles provided by Commandant Soule of Paris are ingeniously designed to show him men what is behind them. Small concave mirrors are attached to the outer corners of ordinary glasses, and in the tests made these did not interfere in any way with forward vision, but gave the wearers a good view of what was going on in the rear, thus adding to their efficiency as watchmen.

Too Active.

"I wonder where Bill is now. Such an active fellow as he was! Always doing something." "The last I heard of him, he was doing time."

The only way a merchant or manufacturer can get the fullest benefit from his advertising is to keep at it all the time.

A Good Idea.

In most of the public schools of France boys are taught how to restore to life a person who has seemingly been drowned; how to carry a boy who has broken bones; what to do for a bad nosebleed; how to apply a tourniquet; what to do in case poison is taken by mistake, and a score of other useful things. Such things should be taught in the public schools at home everywhere.

In the Kitchen.

No Car--At Its Price--Has Ever Equalled This.

"No Car Like The Everitt For Service."

For hard, continuous service over country roads, there is no medium-priced car in the world that will give the satisfaction of the standard "Everitt 30."

This is the car on which the Everitt reputation was built; the car which has just won the strenuous Cleveland and Buffalo Endurance Runs; the car which always makes a good showing in owner's hands; and the car which, of all the cars selling below $1500, is the best car in the world for you.

The Everitt is not one of the many built by "hurry-up" methods, and sold at a quantity price. It is not a "cheap" car; it is a good car. Throughout, it is a piece of machinery, built by real mechanics in a real factory.

In 1911, the "Thirty," equipped as it is today, cost $1,500. It was considered, by men in the trade, the best value in its class on the market. For 1912, the "thirty" is an even better car, for less money.

If you are familiar with the makeup of modern automobiles, a close inspection and severe test of this car will show its desirability. You will note its en-bloc motor, double-drop frame, honey-comb radiator, and unique mechanical simplicity. As you try its ability up the hills and on bad roads, you will see that, for performance, there is literally nothing to compare with it.

The price of the "Everitt 30," fully equipped, is only $1,250. And this price brings you, to all intents and purposes, $4,000 worth of real automobile service.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Some Thoughts for Lent.

TO a large part of the world, today ushers in a season of penitence. For a brief while the minds of many are turned from the gayeties of the world to the things of the spirit. The society woman puts aside her engagement calendar, frequently with a sigh of relief, and thinks with satisfaction of long restful days, with possibly the chance to really see and enjoy her friends. The gay debutante exchanges balls for sewing classes. Even the housekeeper plans a different menu to be in keeping with the spirit of the season.

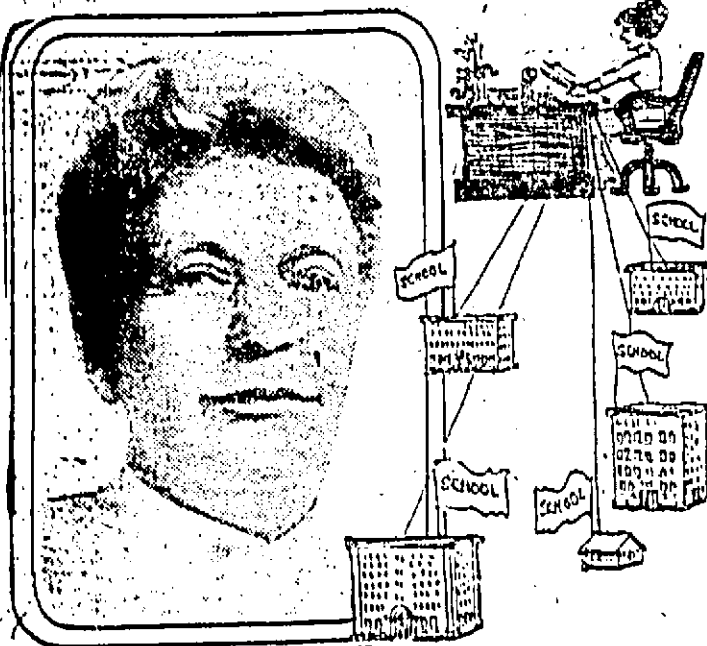

If the observance of Lent were merely in these outward things, it would be beneficial. The society woman absolutely needs a rest after the whirl of the social season. And with the coming of spring a lighter diet is helpful to the body. So that even in the formal things we do, Lent is of use.

But though this mere formal observance of Lent may be helpful, it is not the true observance of the season, and will not bring us the real treasures that Lent has for us. And if we could get off to some serene height, and look down upon this little planet of ours, as does perhaps the Supreme Being, possibly we might get a better understanding of how superficial is this formal observance of Lent, how far removed from real worship, and how little it will do for us compared with what the true Lenten observance will accomplish.

For, abstaining from meat and refraining from dancing is not observing Lent, if we do these things merely fortuitously and as the proper things to do during the Lenten season. If they help us to get into a spiritual frame of mind, to come into communion with the Great Spirit that broods over all, then they are stepping stones to the real observance of Lent. But in themselves they are nothing. Lent is a matter of the spirit, it is not concerned primarily with what we shall eat, or what we shall drink, or what we shall wear. It is a time for the spirit to shake off the things of the world, and grow and develop and come to know itself.

The stepping aside from society and all worldly things will help, if we do not stop here, if we do not think this is sufficient. This is but the beginning. The attendance at church, the dim lights, the soft music, are all aids to acquiring the true Lenten spirit. But Lent is not an intoxication of the senses, a reveling in pure emotion, even though it be of a spiritual nature. When we have withdrawn from the world, when our thoughts have been turned upon spiritual things, then we need to think, and think hard, for ourselves. We want to see life stripped of all that the world has added to it. We want to see the real things that are left. We want to realize whether we have any realities left, or if our whole existence is bound up in the glitter and show of the life we have been living. We want to stand face to face with our spirit, our real self, and see what sort of being it is, what it is concerned with. We want to realize that the spiritual side of life is quite as real as the material, and that it can be far more beautiful. And if we do this, we will begin to wake up to the wonder of life. And when the Lenten season is over, life will have new meaning and new beauty for us. We may go back to our old round of duties or gayeties, but we will see them with a different eye. They will have sunk to their proper place in the scheme of things. We will have had a glimpse of eternity and have come to understand the meaning of it. We will be able to compare the things of the world with it, and in the light of this comparison, all things will have become new.

SOME COMPANY SALADS.

When serving luncheon or dinner to a few friends, one likes to have a salad that is a little unusual for the occasion. Here are a few to choose from:

Goldsmith Salad.—Take a half cup of apples minced fine, one-fourth of a cup of minced celery, a fourth of a cup of chopped hickory nut meats, a fourth of a cup of chopped green pepper and olives mixed. Serve in green pepper cups and garnish with mayonnaise dressing.

Apple, nuts and celery served in head lettuce is a simpler salad and one that is generally liked. Mayonnaise may be served with this or a plain, less expensive, boiled dressing.

Salad plants contain but little nourishment. Their chief value lies in the mineral salts they contain, and when mixed with dressings of oil they are of as much value to the system as food.

Lettuce and green vegetables, if allowed to stand in a dressing, will wilt, so it is best to keep the lettuce crisp and fresh, and serve it freshly prepared.

Grape Fruit or Pomelo Salad.—There is no fruit salad equal in deliciousness to that prepared with carefully removed sections of grape fruit added very gently to celery and nuts, and mixed with mayonnaise. Sometimes even the nuts will crush the fruit and the utmost care should be used in mixing the salad, otherwise the juice is crushed from the fruit and the salad is watery and unlight.

Grape Fruit and Cherry.—Cut the ripe fruit in halves, using the large cherries when obtainable. Cut the grape fruit and remove the sections with care; let all stand a few moments in French dressing to season. Serve with mayonnaise on lettuce and garnish with maraschino cherries.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE lady-who-always-knows-somehow had bought a half dozen pairs of stockings, and when she opened the package, found seven pairs.

"Aren't you lucky?" said the author's wife-who happened to be present.

"Why to get a nice pair of silk stockings for nothing, of course."

"I don't see that I have," rejoined the lady, laying the extra pair by themselves.

"You don't mean to say you are going to take them back," cried the author's wife.

"Of course," said the lady-who-always-knows-somehow.

"How foolish," said the author's wife. "Why don't you just keep them and say nothing about it?"

"I see it this way," said the lady. "If there were only five pairs in the package, I'd tell them their mistake, and ask for the six that belong to me. It seems to me it's logic and justice for me to tell them their mistake when there are seven, and give the shop people what belongs to them."

"But isn't there a chance that that will make trouble for the shop girls? I'm always afraid of that?" questioned Molly, the little stenographer lady.

"Yes," agreed the author's wife. "That's just the way I feel."

"I used to wonder about that myself," said the lady-who-always-knows-somehow, "but I think she's no more likely to get into trouble if you do it as unobtrusively as possible and they always seem grateful. Besides, isn't that an excuse we give ourselves for keeping things? If we only got five pairs of stockings, when we ordered and paid for six, I think most of us would forget about the girl's side of it, and simply go back and ask for the other pair. Don't you?"

"Yes," agreed Molly reluctantly. "I'm afraid we would. I guess you're right as usual, Miss sister."

"Well, I think you are very foolish," said the author's wife tartly. "I'd keep them fast enough, if it happened to me, and I don't believe anyone would care. You aren't really going to take them back?"

But the lady-who-always-knows-somehow, instead of answering, merely smiled serenely and changed the subject.

SARDINES RECOMMENDED.

The "Lancet" says that sardines are to be recommended if only for the oil which they contain, even if the sardines are herring and the oil peanut or cottonseed oil. Most people, says this eminent authority, neglect to take sufficient oil, which offsets the injurious effects of excessive protein ingestion, and is otherwise beneficial. It is not to be supposed that the addition of uncleaned herring or sprats or even of the genuine sardine of Bardina improves the oil. Olive or peanut oil can be obtained more easily than sardines and with less liability of substitution.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Informal Suppers for the Husband's Friends Offer Simple Hospitality.

By Alice E. Whitaker.
The main point in extending any sort of hospitality is not to make it seem a great effort. Many a man would like to invite a friend to his home with him to dinner but visions of his wife's frustration over the surprise, or short notice given to her, entirely overcome his hospitable impulse.

Entirely a woman, with the best intent, excuses herself from entertaining because of the cost. This is a good reason if something elaborate is to be attempted or something a little beyond her means but it costs little to offer

Thought for Today

MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLLETTE.

HONOR SYSTEM.

WHEN Ben Lindsey began his work for the Denver House of Correction he found that the spirit of the juvenile court should prevail in handling these men who have committed to prison are first offenders, that nearly half are young men between the ages of twenty and twenty-four.

The first purpose of imprisonment should not be punishment, but protection of society. Anything except a life sentence presumes that the prisoner intends to return to the world. The interests of society demand that he come back, if possible, fortified against temptation and qualified to earn an honest living.

The ordinary prison regime of monotonous piece work, under armed guards in enforced silence, would make good men desperate and dangerous. Prisoners when released are handicapped not only with the stigma of having worn stripes, but are sent out without having been taught a trade in which there is demand for their labor. They are helpless and hopeless and are almost compelled to live the life of outlaws.

Colorado was the first of the states to experiment with the honor system for men prisoners as it was for boy offenders. Warden Tynan, who is a friend of Judge Lindsey, takes personal interest in the men, wins their confidence and keeps his hold on them after they are released.

They are given mostly outdoor work. Large numbers of convicts are trusted to engage in road building, miles from the prison, without manacles or armed guards and without striped clothes. They are taught farming, how to raise poultry and pigs and garden truck.

A reporter says the fact that no crimes have been committed, that escapes are practically unknown, prove that Colorado has solved the convict problem and that the work she is doing can well be followed in other states.

There is one little secret to be borne in mind; be sure to have fine coffee, for without it the best cooking will not be appreciated by any man.

Perhaps what others have done may be suggestive. One small group of men friends enjoyed a supper like the following: Baked beans served from the pot in which they were baked, each person helping himself, brown bread, vegetable salad, crackers, cheese and coffee.

Another hostess provided a large potato salad garnished with ribbon, also oysters heated in a casserole in two chafing dishes, and as soon as the oysters rattled the flame was extinguished and the oysters remained hot while being served. There were also rice and brown bread and butter sandwiches and squares of light gingerbread with plenty of coffee.

In either of the cases mentioned the cooking was perfect, the work of preparing it largely done before hand and the service such as the guests could manage themselves and perhaps not to be overlooked, there was nothing that would induce nightmare if eaten late.

Now and then a woman would like to entertain her club or some other group of women friends when a little more substantial menu than would be served than at afternoon tea. Perhaps a hint may be taken from the manner in which a club woman entertained thirty-five women at luncheon. The guests were seated in the dining room and reception hall and were served but one maid and a member of the family after the plates and napkins were carried away, ways and means in club affairs were discussed without leaving these rooms.

The menu included white fish creamed, cucumber sauce, mashed potatoes, hot rolls, gooseberry preserves and an inexpensive fruit cake baked in sheets and cut in squares. Large cups of excellent coffee were also served.

The only dishes needed were for each guest a plate of the breakfast size, a fork and a cup and saucer and for the protection of her dress a large dinner napkin. The luncheon was a success in the quality of the food and the absence of any fuss or needless ceremony in serving.

You'll See The Difference in MATCHLESS FLOUR

You know that water poured upon sand is quickly absorbed and that water poured upon dust remains at the top in a puddle while the bottom of the dust pile remains dry.

This is true of Christian's Matchless Flour and other flours.

Because Matchless Flour is made up of minute granules it quickly absorbs the water that you use in mixing, and kneads into perfect dough.

Matchless Flour is first of all a skillful blend of hard Northern Spring wheat for lightness and raising qualities and our own Red Winter Wheat for flavor and smoothness—granulated—not ground—by a scientific process and sifted and granulated and sifted over and over again until it feels as soft and smooth as velvet.

MAKES PREDICTION OF UNUSUAL STORMS

Foster's Bureau Forecasts Sudden Increase in Storm Force About February 18.

Copyrighted 1912 by W. T. Foster. Last bulletin gave forecast of disturbance to cross continent February 19 to 22, with wave 18 to 22, cool wave 21 to 25. This disturbance is expected to average warmer than usual and cause an increase in precipitation. The storms will be of more than usual force west of northern 90 and will decrease in force as they approach eastern sections.

Not far from February 18 a sudden increase of the storm forces on many parts of the earth has been expected and predicted. Great sunspots were also predicted and the results will be mentioned in coming bulletins. The effects of this great disturbance may be extended to all parts of the continent and will probably cover the week of February 15 to 21. This bulletin will be published at a good time to call attention and observe the results of this great planetary event.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about February 22, cross Pacific along 24 to 28, eastern sections 27. Warm wave will cross Pacific about February 24, great central valley 25, eastern sections 28. Cool wave will cross Pacific about Feb. 25, great central valley 27, eastern sections 29.

"This disturbance will have greatest force on western parts of the continent but will continue in greater force than usual across eastern sections and onto the Atlantic. Precipitation will be above the average of the month in the northwest and in the southern states.

My January forecasts were good enough for all purposes. Excepting these bulletins no forecasts over equaled them. They were good for all parts of the continent and I will always be satisfied with all forecasts that are as good. First part of February forecasts were not so good. The storm waves were on time but I had predicted a cool wave where and when the severe cold wave came in. The predicted freezing and thawing for February occurred as forecast and winter grain will show the bad effects during April and May.

In December and first of January holders of cotton were advised not to sell and those who held made $5.00 a day for doing so. Cotton had gone down $40.00 a bale during the past year and a panic in prices was impending.

I believe the advice given out through these bulletins and privately turned the tide. That great depression in prices of cotton was serious and threatened a general panic. The cotton mills of Europe and America had manufactured cotton fabrics from high priced cotton and when the raw material fell to half price the mills could not sell without a great loss. That fact had much to do with the great strikes in the cotton mills and the financial world was on the edge of a great panic.

Looking ahead at the cotton price weather of 1912 I could see that prices must go up and I gave such advice to many cotton mills that were in distress. The prices immediately stopped the decline and the clouds of financial distress began to clear away. Somebody manipulated the cotton markets and came near causing a great financial panic. If the "hogs" would keep their feet out of the trough there would be an abundance for all.

Readers of these bulletins should not forget that late in November holders of grain were advised not to sell. Grain of Canada and the states is now worth millions of dollars more than it was bringing two months ago. The above statement indicates how vastly valuable long range weather forecasts may be.

Next bulletin will give general forecasts of cropweather of March. Six months of the crop growing season are now immediately before us and I propose that these weather bulletins shall be much more valuable during that six months than they have ever been.

URGES ERECTION OF COUNTY SANITARIUM

Miss E. L. M. Tate State Organizer for State Anti-Tuberculosis Society Explains Plans.

Miss E. L. M. Tate state organizer for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association who has been in the city for several days is anxious to secure the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium in this county. She plans to initiate the matter at the next session of the county board to secure if possible an appropriation for the partial cost of building the hospital by the state. Miss Tate has the following to say regarding the proposition:

"The fact that many of the patients from Rock county at the state sanitarium have been able to pay for their maintenance either entirely or in part, ought to make the county officials realize that the county sanitarium for secondary and advanced cases, can be made something more than a charitable institution.

"In almost every town where the members of the association staff have worked they are asked the frequent question of where can patients who are willing to pay be sent. The question particularly where it comes from the mother of a family of little children has been hard to meet, since no hospital is willing to take the cases, such as the county sanitarium are willing to provide for. The building we are recommending has a pumping station building in the center, and on either side of the center, and on either side of the center, with windows opening into pockets like street car windows. With arrangement one patient can have all the air they can stand, while the patient in the next room, need not have as much if they are too far advanced to stand very cold air.

"The porches have sun parlors at either end, and warm dressing corridors, for patients who are able to be up. And from the fact that the patient can be made comfortable. The prime object of the association is to provide a place where the contagious case can be cared for, and not endanger the other members of the family and in this way stop the spread of the disease.

"Six counties have already taken advantage of the new law which carries $30.00 per week state aid for county charges. It is to be hoped that Rock county will take advantage of it and give their particular place where they can be cared for."

DISFIGUREMENT

For Three Long Years, Suffered Great Deal. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Brought Marvelous Results. In Few Weeks Cured Completely.

"I was troubled with acne for three long years. My face was the only part affected, but it caused great disfigurement, also suffering and loss of sleep. At first there appeared red, hard pimples which later contained white matter. I suffered a great deal caused by the itching. I was in a state of perplexity when walking the streets or anywhere before the public.

"I used nile and other remedies but they failed completely. I thought of giving up when nothing would help, but something told me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a Cuticura Booklet which I read carefully. Then I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and by following the directions I was relieved in a few days. I used Cuticura Soap for washing my face, and applied the Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. This treatment brought marvelous results so I continued with it for a few weeks and was cured completely. I can truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are not only all but more than they claim to be." (Signed) G. B. Buntel, 1015 W. 20th Place, Chicago, Ill., May 28, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Remedies have afforded the most economical treatment for afflictions of the skin and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap (25c) and a box of Cuticura Ointment (50c) are often sufficient. Although sold throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32p. book on the skin, will be sent free, on application to Walter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 254, Boston.

Service,

SHE.

Her curling locks were fair,
She was a blonde from birth;
She had a wealth of hair,
Say twenty dollars' worth.

Who paid the bill?

Spoiled the Romance.
"He proposed to me by wireless."
"How romantic."
"I thought so, too, but father didn't."
"Why not?"
"He sent the message collect, and of cost father $1.20."

Easily Fixed.
"John," exclaimed the inebriated printer's wife, "when you come home in that condition at this unseemly hour I hardly know what to call you!"
"At's awright, m'dear," rejoined the printer, "jus' put me in the 'too late to classify' department."

An Exception.
"A good man always is found on top of the heap."
"Not always. For instance, in a football game the best man is usually found at the bottom of a heap."

On the Alps.
Anxious Wife—For heaven's sake, don't fall down there, George. I shall never find my way down by myself.
Elegante Blotter.

His Use for Soap.
"Lady," said Meandering Mike, "would you lend me a cake of soap?"
"Do you mean to tell me you want soap?"
"Yes'm. No partner's got do肥皂 an' I want to scrub him."

Classification.
"What is your idea of a musical comedy?"
"It is usually a form of entertainment," replied Mr. Hibrow, "in which the music and the comedy are less important than the costumes."

A Suggestion.
Alice—I got a hat at such a bargain this morning I just feel like hugging myself.
Dick—Hain't you better have it done by proxy?

The Reason.
"If you notice, husband and wife rarely make an excursion together."
"Maybe they are afraid of falling out."

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

THE ART INSTITUTE

(By Howard L. Rahn.)

HOWARD L. RAHN.

THE Art Institute is a place of free entertainment with which people regard visiting relatives who seem to be in a hurry to leave for home. After a country cousin has tramped around the Art Institute until his knees sag and his mind is full of statues which are long on classic lines and short on common sense, he will either drop into a cane seat and remove both shoes in a polite, but firm manner or get a quick action on his return ticket. There is a great deal of art lying around in one of these institutes, and most of it is saved, without any disturbing handicaps in the way of superfluous clothing. Some people hunt the institute for years, and are thus able to hunt their knowledge of the impressionist school in the faces of unlettered relatives who couldn't tell a $10,000 coat in a mission oak frame, which would look dear to a hard-headed business man at $9.50 a dozen, with 50 and 5 off for cash, from a department store chrome of "Eliza Crossing the Ice." It is a very aggravating thing to have a wife who is a devotee of the Art Institute and who insists upon explaining why Rembrandt never painted Lake Erie in a storm just when a man wants to discuss the size of the grocery bill. Every Art Institute has a roll-up of high-browed pictures which the sculptor got for that sculpt and why he sculpted it. The main exhibits in an up-to-date institute are plaster of paris casts of people who pursued the physical culture and finally they finally caught up with it. Among the most popular of these is Hercules, who is seen teaching the struggle hold to a class of Sambo-like boys, and "The Dying Gladiator" who cusses in with evident reluctance and doesn't seem to be enjoying the show. Art Institute tea are run on free-will offerings wrung from the pharisees and citizens who are choked with easy money, and therefore their tea is to be encouraged.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, Feb. 17, 1872.—A bill was brought up in the assembly by Senator Horn to provide for the killing of the bedbugs in the Rock county poor house by setting fire to the same after saturating it with kerosene oil, and that the inmates be requested to leave the building before the fire is lighted, in a state of nature; and that the poor commissioner of said county be obliged to provide decent clothing for these poor, etc., and that this be done before the warm weather sets in. The bill was referred to the committee from Janesville, author of bill No. 7.

UNCLE WALT

The Post Philosopher

BY WALT MASON

When you have yourself persuaded that this life is stale and faded, that there's nothing worth an effort underneath the frowning sky, when you've reached the dire conviction that old Truth herself's a fiction, and that all is false and shoddy, then TIME is up to you to die. When TO DIE the people here and here, you who believe in human virtue, since you look upon death as a virtue, a job, when you find or worthy action, when you find satisfaction, you've outgrown the world you live in and it's up to you to croak. When at noon you leave the downy with a countenance all frosty, when you bloom around your shanty like the daisy in Monted Grange, when you can't dig up a cheery greeting for the husband weary, you are slowly decomposing, and it's time you crossed the range. When good motives you'd deny us, when you leer at all things pious, when your breast's become a headquarters for a case of doleful dumps, when you go your journey strewn prophetic of ruthless ruin, then I guess you're one too many, and it's time you jumped the bumps.

These are bargain days. Read Gazette ads and profits.

CHANGE THE NAME TO "THE COMMERCIAL CLUB"

ANNUAL MEETING OF INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL CLUB
HELD AT CITY HALL
LAST NIGHT.

ELECT NEW DIRECTORS

Six New Men Named and Nine of Old Directors Retained—President And Secretary Give Reports.

Directors for the ensuing year were elected, the reports of the president and secretary read, the engagement of a visiting nurse by the city endorsed, the name of the organization changed and other business proposed and considered at the annual meeting of the Commercial Club held at the assembly room in the city hall last night. The meeting was the third called, the first announced for February 5, being adjourned because of the absence of a quorum, and the second because of the Bassett & Schell fire occurring on the evening of February 12. Although but a small percentage of the membership was there, a quorum was adjudged present and the meeting called to order by President Lovejoy. In the absence of Recording Secretary Matheson, he presided throughout, and read his own report which was followed by that of Secretary Lane.

Directors Are Named.
After the reports had been read the election of directors was held. Fifteen directors were elected, six of whom are new members. This proportion is in accordance with the by-laws of the association which provide that only ten of the former members must be re-elected. The club balloted on twenty-six names, eleven of which were new and placed upon the ticket as the result of a mail canvass among the members of the club. The six new candidates receiving the highest votes were declared elected, they were: James Milled W. H. Dougherty, N. L. Carle, R. M. Postwick, Carl A. Hinchholz, and P. S. Sheldon, who will be the new men on the board for 1912. Other names mentioned were F. L. Clements, J. C. Nichols, George E. King, Joseph Weber, Jr., Louis Levy, S. G. Dunwiddie and Michael Hayes.

Those re-elected from the old board were: A. P. Lovejoy, H. L. McNamara, A. J. Gibbons, J. L. Wilcox, F. H. Jackson, P. O. Howe, J. A. Craig, Amos Rehberg, George Sutherland. Those who were dropped were H. H. Bliss, A. E. Matheson, S. M. Smith, and H. M. Dedrick.

Discuss Fire Hazard.
The necessity and means of reducing the fire hazard in the downtown business district was the theme of the insurance committee, read by Mr. A. J. Gibbons in the absence of Amos Rehberg. That there were a number of firetraps existing that were a menace to the valuable property surrounding them and that insurance rates in their neighborhood would be reduced to a great extent by their demolition and replacement was the firm opinion of the committee. They pleaded for a closer observance of the ordinances regulating buildings and moral support for their enforcement.

Special attention had been given by the committee to considering means of reducing the excessive insurance rates on property over the river. Installation of a sprinkler system would make it possible to insure those buildings for 75 per cent. less, but after investigation of the proposed plan it was found that the danger of freezing and cost of installing an effective system under the circumstances would make the cost prohibitive.

The chairman of the lighting committee announced that he hoped to revive the project of illuminating Milwaukee street with cluster lights and requested the support of every member of the club. The chairman of the special committee to audit the books announced that they had found all the disbursements properly accounted for and the accounts properly kept.

Aid Tuberculosis Society.
The proposal of Mayor Nichols that the Commercial Club endorse the effort of the local Anti-Tuberculosis Association to secure an appropriation of $1000 from the Common Council for the maintenance of a visiting nurse disclosed varying opinions among themselves. The resolution was passed by an aye and no vote but remarks made subsequent to the vote led Mayor Nichols to believe that it did not faithfully represent the spirit of those present. On his motion it was voted to reconsider the question. A rising vote was taken, seventeen voting for the resolution and twelve against.

Little comment was made on the resolution, other than the plea in its behalf made by the mayor. It was urged in its support that $1000 was an insignificant sum to expend for safeguarding the health of 14000 citizens, and that if but one life was saved in a year it would be well spent. Cities throughout the United States were maintaining visiting nurses who were locating cases of tuberculosis instructing patients as to its care and treatment, and the prevention of contagion. Janesville could not afford to fall behind in this respect. Those opposed to the plan argued that the nurse was not needed, that her field of activity was already well covered and that Janesville had plenty of trained nurses.

President Gave Report.
The name of the Industrial and Commercial Club was changed to Commercial Club by a resolution passed. The reason for the alteration was the confusion of the old name with that of another organization and its unwieldy length.

The report of the club Lovejoy, began his report with an account of the accomplishments of the organization for the period between the last annual meeting and May 1, when Mr. Lane arrived, followed this with a discussion of the permanent bureaus the club has established and their usefulness to members.

thousand names, is kept up-to-date and is at the service of all members of the club. Miss Burch had also compiled a very valuable scrap book of information about Janesville.

Mention is also made of the sending of five committees to appear before the legislature at hearings on the binder twins, factory, hours and banking laws, and the income tax laws.

Some of Difficulties.
Mr. Lovejoy placed the credit for the placing of the County Training School in Janesville largely to the efforts of the Civic Committee referred to in the successful activities of the Club, such as Commercial Traveler's day and declared that the Club had been behind or prominently identified with every public celebration held during its existence. Continuing he dwelt upon the difficulties experienced in the work, he said in part:

"Now I want to point out to you some of our difficulties because I think a frank understanding of them will enable us to take hold and eradicate them in the future. First, I want to say just a word on factory location. Mr. Lane will read you a list of the concerns that have been on the string during the year, but I want to emphasize the fact that good factories are scarce and they bring high prices. The good concerns that are looking for locations come to Janesville and ask, 'What have you got to offer?' We show them the town and various sites, etc., and usually ask them what they want. Sometimes they tell and sometimes they do not, but the town with funds available for bonuses or loans, or free sites or ready-made buildings, are the ones that land the best concerns, because they are ready to talk turkey to any concern they want. I mention this because your board and the club itself at an open meeting both voted that it was best to let the factories go rather than try to raise such a fund in advance. That is one of the things, though, that makes the work of the Industrial Committee hardest.

Should Aid Retailers.
That the Commercial Club should do more for the retail dealers of the city was the opinion of Mr. Lovejoy. He declared them to be among the best and most enthusiastic members and liberal with contributions. As a means of helping their business he suggested a revival of the plan of rebating railway fares to out-of-town purchasers.

"Another thing that has been discussed is an advertising campaign—get the merchants to agree not to buy false advertising or advertising that is really a donation unless it is first passed upon and approved by a club committee. Several have expressed interest in this but nobody has yet shown enough interest to help put it under way.

"Not more than one third of the members of the club are taking advantage of the freight bureau which the speaker believed gave better service than the railway offices. It can furnish rates, classifications, and all kinds of traffic information and stands ready to audit members' freight bills. This is all without charge, whereas the usual bureau takes fifty per cent of recoveries.

Make City Ordinances.
"More effort should be made to make the city attractive because nothing impresses the visitor and traveler more quickly in its favor.

"There must be a quickening of the public conscience for clearing up and beautifying before you can expect any results. And it has got to be done before Janesville can make a worthy impression on the outsider. I know that many of you disagree with me but for myself I would rather see money spent cleaning up and beautifying the central part of town than used in buying a factory. I believe too that it is poor policy to bring conventions to this city because I believe the average visitor gets a poor impression in fact a wrong impression from what he sees. If you men agree that this work ought to be done, it can be done. And in my judgment it is the first necessity at present.

"In closing my second term as president of the club, I want to thank you for the assistance and encouragement you have given in the work accomplished. The Club has never been in better working condition than it is today. We have more members than ever and a pledged annual income of over $2400. Our fixtures, files, statistics, and physical equipment are of considerable value. I wish that any of you who have not been to the club offices lately would go up there and see what we have and let Mr. Lane show you what is being done. To some I believe it would be a revelation. We are fortunate in having an efficient secretary who is doing much for Janesville especially in the inspection but very vital matter of transportation. We have accomplished much yet there is still more left to be done."

Secretary Lane's report is given in full below:

SECRETARY'S REPORT
"The question is often asked: What has the club done and of what value is a commercial organization? This same question might be as well answered if asked of a minister, still we all agree that ministers do good in a community, and the same applies as well to a commercial organization.

"A commercial organization in any community is a good thing. In the first place, organization means unity of action, and we all know that organized effort far surpasses individual effort. Today, throughout the country, all efforts are organized efforts, and the individual effort meets with but little success. Any line of business you may care to mention has its organization. While it may be true that this club has not been as active as it might be, still, keeping at it continually means success in the end.

"A great many men seem to think all they have to do is to pay their annual dues and never take any active interest in the work of the organization. Interest of this kind is good, but we must go farther; every man must do his share of the work. "All interests should unite in their action and not attempt to pull the load in one hundred different directions.

What Has Been Done.

"I have listed the accomplishments of the club since coming here May 1st.

"Endeavored to secure U. C. T. Convention of 1912 for Janesville.

"Several members used their best efforts to secure a system of cluster lights for the business section of the city.

"Established a credit bureau and published a Retailers' Credit Book for the benefit of the retailers.

"Raised money by popular subscription to give a series of band concerts for the people of Janesville.

"A large delegation of manufacturers and business men met the special train of the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, and entertained them during their visit.

"A delegation visited Madison to protest against the income tax; had a conference with Governor McGovern.

"Secured the night control of the C. A. C. and C. A. A. automobiles for Janesville and entertained the visitors while here.

"Held several smokers, when questions concerning the welfare of Janesville were discussed.

"Aided the Eagles to secure the 1912 State Convention for Janesville, which was secured and will be held in this city in June. It is expected that we will have eight to ten thousand visitors.

"In conjunction with the Spanish War Veterans, conducted a three day celebration July 3rd, 4th and 5th. It is estimated that 30,000 people visited our city. Governor McFerson and other state officers attended the celebration on July 4.

"A committee from the club conferred with Mr. Maxfield and endeavored to have him withdraw his complaint with State Tax Commission for a reassessment of Janesville.

"Committee appointed to attend the Inland Waterways Conference held in Chicago.

"Arranged for automobiles to give the delegates attending the Prohibition Synod a ride about the city.

"Conducted an Industrial Exhibition in the clinic building, where the products of Janesville manufacturers were exhibited. This exhibit was pronounced a marked success and several of the exhibitors have requested that it be an annual affair and have reserved space for the next show.

"Statistics were compiled for the Janesville folder, which shows Janesville facts and the advantages of Janesville. These have been distributed among the manufacturers and business men and will be sent all over the country.

"Arranged the meeting of Rock County farmers, at which time they formed an association known as the Rock County order of the Experimental Association.

"A list of farmers has been classified showing their respective standards according to the number of bushels of corn, oats and barley raised per acre. At the second meeting of this Association held last week at the City Hall they had, on attendance of 250 farmers.

"In an address on the monetary question by Prof. J. Laughlin of the University of Chicago.

"Had sign advertising Janesville erected at Evansville cut-off.

"Had streets illuminated Christmas week.

"Committed to National Business Congress.

"Called the attention of all Janesville manufacturers and contractors to the proposed factory rules of the Industrial Commission.

"Answered numerous inquiries regarding Janesville as a location and its advantages.

"Wrote many booster articles for Janesville.

Securing New Industries.
"The matter of securing new industries is a hard question, and one which a number of our members are not familiar with. The competition between cities is as keen as any other business. It is necessary today to get in the field and bid for any going concern. In this respect this association is at a disadvantage. We are not in a position to make any offer. We first must try to find out what the other fellow wants and then attempt to make the money. In the meantime some other city has closed the deal.

Maxwell Mascotte
—the Great American Family Car.

THE Maxwell team was the only one in the tour to finish the 1454-mile contest with a perfect score. This team and one other Maxwell car won all trophies offered as well as all prize money in their class.

The road conditions were admittedly the worst ever experienced by Glidden tourists, but the Maxwell beat out 63 other cars, some of them costing as much as $6000.

Maxwell's big victory must demonstrate to automobile purchasers the dependability of Maxwell cars—must solve the problem of what car to buy. The car illustrated here is the

Maxwell Mascotte $980

Truly termed the ideal American Family Car. No car of equal class and equal capacity is offered within $200 of the price.

Great purchasing power, unequalled manufacturing facilities and quantity production, make it possible.

The Mascotte is built entirely by ourselves and into it has been put every fine point of Maxwell construction which made easily possible the great triumph of Maxwell cars in the Glidden Tour. It is a car for the particular man of limited income who has waited for a high grade car of suitable size for less than $1000. It has individuality and an atmosphere of its own. It can be shown to advantage with the most expensive cars. It lacks nothing of their high grade, despite its low cost.

We have prepared a booklet on The Maxwell car which dwells upon all the points you want to know about the car. This booklet is free for the asking.

Monchammin leaped up at the suggestion. "Oh!" he shouted. "A safety-pin!" "What do you want a safety-pin for?" "To fasten you up with!" "A safety-pin!" "You want to fasten me with a safety-pin?" "Yes, to fasten you to the twenty-thousand francs! Then, whether it's here, or on the drive from here to your place, or at your place, you will feel the hand that pulls at your pocket and you will see it's mine! Oh, so you're suspecting me now, are you?" "A safety-pin!" "And that was the moment when Monchammin opened the door on the passage and shouted: 'A safety-pin!'... somebody give me a safety-pin!" "And we also know how, at the same moment, Remy, who had no safety-pin, was received by Monchammin, while a boy procured the pin so eagerly longed for. And what happened was this: Monchammin first locked the door again. Then he knelt down behind Richard's back. 'I hope,' he said, 'that the notes are still there.' 'So do I,' said Richard. 'The real ones?' asked Monchammin, resolved not to be 'hand' this time. 'Look for yourself,' said Richard. 'I refuse to touch them.' Monchammin took the envelope from Richard's pocket and drew out the bank-notes with a trembling hand, for this time, in order frequently to make sure of the presence of the notes, he had not sealed the envelope nor even fastened it. He felt reassured on finding that they were all there and quite genuine. He put them back in the tail-pocket and pinned them with great care. Then he sat down behind Richard's chair and kept his eyes fixed on them, while Richard, sitting at his writing-table, did not stir. 'A little patience, Richard,' said Monchammin. 'We have only a few minutes to wait. The clock will soon strike twelve. Last time, we left at the last stroke of twelve.' 'Oh, I shall have all the patience necessary!' The time passed, slow, heavy, mysterious, stifling. Richard tried to laugh. 'I shall end by believing in the omnipotence of the ghost,' he said. 'Just now, don't you find something uncomfortable, disquieting, alarming in the atmosphere of this room?' 'You're quite right,' said Monchammin, who was really impressed. 'The ghost!' continued Richard, in a low voice, as though fearing lest learn it from me!" "Yes," said Richard, taking his head in his hands and muttering. "What is this new business? Oh, it's enough to make a man send in his resignation!"

And he pulled a few hairs out of his mustache without even knowing what he was doing.

"So she... so she disappeared in the middle of the performance?" he repeated.

"Yes, she was carried off in the Prison Act, at the moment when she was invoking the aid of the angels; but I doubt if she was carried off by an angel."

"And I am sure that she was!" Everybody looked round. A young man, pale and trembling with excitement, repeated:

"I am sure of it!"

"What of what?" asked Miffoild.

"That Christine Daae was carried off by an angel, M. le commissaire, and I can tell you his name."

"Alas, M. le Vicomte de Chagny! So you maintain that Christine Daae was carried off by an angel; an angel of the opera, no doubt?"

"Yes, monsieur, by an angel of the opera; and I will tell you where he lives... when we are alone."

"You are right, monsieur." And the commissaire of police, inviting Raoul to take a chair, cleared the room of all the rest, excepting the managers.

Then Raoul spoke: "M. le commissaire, the angel is called Erik, he lives in the opera and he is the Angel of Music!"

"The Angel of Music! Really! That is very curious! The Angel of Music! And, turning to the managers, M. Miffoild asked, 'Have you an Angel of Music on the premises, gentlemen?'"

Richard and Monchammin shook their heads, without even speaking. "Oh," said the vicomte, "those gentlemen have heard of the opera ghost. Well, I am in a position to state that the opera ghost and the Angel of Music are one and the same person; and his real name is Erik."

M. Miffoild rose and looked at Raoul attentively.

"I beg your pardon, monsieur, but is it your intention to make fun of the law? And if not, what is all this about the opera ghost?"

"I say that these gentlemen have heard of him."

"Gentlemen, it appears that you know the opera ghost?"

Richard rose, with the remaining hairs of his mustache in his hand. "No, M. Commissaire, no, we do not know him, but we wish that we did, for this very evening he has robbed us of twenty-thousand francs!"

And Richard turned a terrible look on Monchammin, which seemed to say:

"Give me back the twenty-thousand francs, or I'll tell the whole story."

Monchammin understood what he meant, for, with a distracted gesture, he said:

"Oh, tell everything and have done with it!"

As for Miffoild, he looked at the managers and at Raoul by turns and wondered whether he had strayed into a lunatic asylum. He passed his hand through his hair.

"A ghost," he said, "who, on the same evening, carries off an opera-singer and steals twenty-thousand francs is a ghost who must have his hands very full! If you don't mind, we will take the questions in order. The singer first, the twenty-thousand francs after. Come, M. de Chagny, let us try to talk seriously. You believe that Mlle. Christine Daae has been carried off by an individual called Erik. Do you know this person? Have you seen him?"

"Yes."

"Where?"

"In a churchyard."

M. Miffoild gave a start, began to scrutinize Raoul again and said:

"Of course! That's where ghosts usually hang out! And what were you doing in that churchyard?"

"Monsieur," said Raoul, "I can quite understand how absurd my replies must seem to you. But I beg you to believe that I am in full possession of my faculties. The safety of the person dearest to me in the world is at stake. I should like to convince you in a few words, for time is pressing and every minute is valuable. Unfortunately, if I do not tell you the strangest story that ever was from the beginning, you will not believe me. I will tell you all I know about the opera ghost, M. Commissaire. Alas, I do not know much!"

"Never mind, go on, go on!" exclaimed Richard and Monchammin, suddenly interested.

Unfortunately for their hopes, at learning some detail that could put them on the track of their hoaxer, they were soon compelled to accept the fact that M. Raoul de Chagny had completely lost his head. All that story about Perro-Guifred, death's heads and enchanted violins, could only have taken birth in the phantasmagoria of a youth mad with love. It was evident, also, that M. Commissaire Miffoild shared their view; and the magistrate would certainly have cut short the incoherent narrative if circumstances had not taken it upon themselves to interrupt it.

The door opened and a man entered, curiously dressed in an enormous frock-coat and a tall hat, at once shabby and shiny, that came down to his ears. He went up to the commissaire and spoke to him in a whisper. It was doubtless a detective come to deliver an important communication.

During this conversation M. Miffoild did not take his eyes off Raoul. At last, addressing him, he said:

"Monsieur, we have talked enough about the ghost. We will now talk about yourself a little. If you have no objection, you were to carry off Mlle. Christine Daae tonight?"

"After the performance."

"Yes, M. le commissaire."

"All your arrangements were made?"

"Yes, M. le commissaire."

"The carriage that brought you was to take you both away. There were fresh horses in readiness at every stage."

"That is true, M. le commissaire."

"And nevertheless your carriage is still outside the Bouffes awaiting your orders, is it not?"

"Yes, M. le commissaire."

"Did you know that there were three other carriages there, in addition to yours?"

"I did not pay the least attention."

"They were the carriages of Mlle. Sorrell, which could not find room in the Cour de l'Administration; of Carlotia, and of your brother, M. le Comte de Chagny."

"Very likely."

"What is certain is that, though your carriage and Sorrell's and Carlotia's are still there, by the Bouffes pavement, M. le Comte de Chagny's carriage is gone."

"This has nothing to say to me. I beg your pardon. Was not M. le Comte de Chagny to your marriage with Mlle. Daae?"

"That is a matter that only concerns the family."

"You have answered my question; he was opposed to it... and that was why you were carrying Christine Daae out of your brother's reach."

"Well, M. de Chagny, allow me to inform you that your brother has been smarter than you! It is he who has carried off Christine Daae!"

"Oh, impossible!" moaned Raoul, pressing his hand to his heart. "Are you sure?"

"Immediately after the artist's disappearance, which was procured by means which we have still to ascertain, he flung into his carriage, which drove right across Paris at a furious pace."

"Across Paris?" asked poor Raoul, in a hoarse voice. "What do you mean by across Paris?"

"Across Paris and out of Paris by the Brussels road."

"Oh," cried the young man, "I shall catch them!"

And he rushed out of the office. (To be Continued.)

The Reason.

The following conversation was overheard between two boys, aged seven and five: "Joe, why can't children talk?" "Aw, they don't have to. When they want anything, they just pull their wish-bones and they get their wish."—The Delinquent.

Measuring Starlight and Sunlight.

Starlight has been measured in comparison with sunlight and the following results have been announced: The light received from a star of the first magnitude like Vega is about one forty-thousandth-millionth of the sun's. Young places the total starlight received by the earth at the value of 3,000 first magnitude stars, thus making the whole starlight to be one-sixteenth that of the full moon. Light has an actual mechanical pressure and can be measured in the laboratory. It has been found that the sun's light in itself presses against the earth with a force something like 70,000 tons.

His Last Request.

Two men were to be hanged for horsestealing. The place selected was the middle of a trestle bridge spanning a river. The rope was not securely tied on the first victim to be dropped, and the knot slipped; the man fell into the river and immediately swam for the shore. As they were adjusting the rope on the second he remarked: "Say, will you be sure and tie that good and tight, 'cause I can't swim."

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

WHERE THE SPANISH KINGS ARE BURIED.

By A. W. MACY.

Twenty-seven miles from Madrid, on a bleak height surrounded by a sterile and gloomy wilderness, stands the Escorial, one of the most remarkable buildings in Europe. It is 788 feet long and 623 feet wide, with tall towers at the angles. It comprises at once a convent, a church, a palace and a mausoleum. On August 10, 1557, the Spaniards gained a great victory over the French at St. Quentin, and the Spanish king, Philip II, had the building erected in commemoration of the event. As the battle occurred on St. Lawrence's day, he had the building designed to resemble the famous girdle on which St. Lawrence suffered martyrdom by being roasted to death. The work was begun in 1563, and continued for more than twenty years. The building contains a vast number of treasures—paintings, sculptures, manuscripts, etc. Among them is a life-size figure of Christ on the Cross, done in ivory by Benvenuto Cellini. As it stands today, the Escorial and its contents represent an outlay of more than $10,000,000. Here lie the bodies of all the Spanish kings since the Emperor Charles V., except Philip V. and Ferdinand VI.
